EYRIE

VOLUME VII

FRANKENMUTH HIGH SCHOOL

Frankenmuth, Michigan

Foreword

The personnel of the 1964 Eyrie Staff wishes to convey its gratitude for all the able assistance given in compiling this seventh volume.

Particular thanks go to Mrs. Margret Willis for the special guidance and direction she has given to make this project possible.

It is hoped that the 1964 Eyrie will bring as much pleasure to the reader as it has to the staff in producing it.

We, the personnel, leave the future graduating class with this thought: "The future joys we anticipate will be reflections of what we have done in the past."

Sincerely,

The Eyrie Staff Members

Neil Ericsson and
Clella Sage, Co-Editors

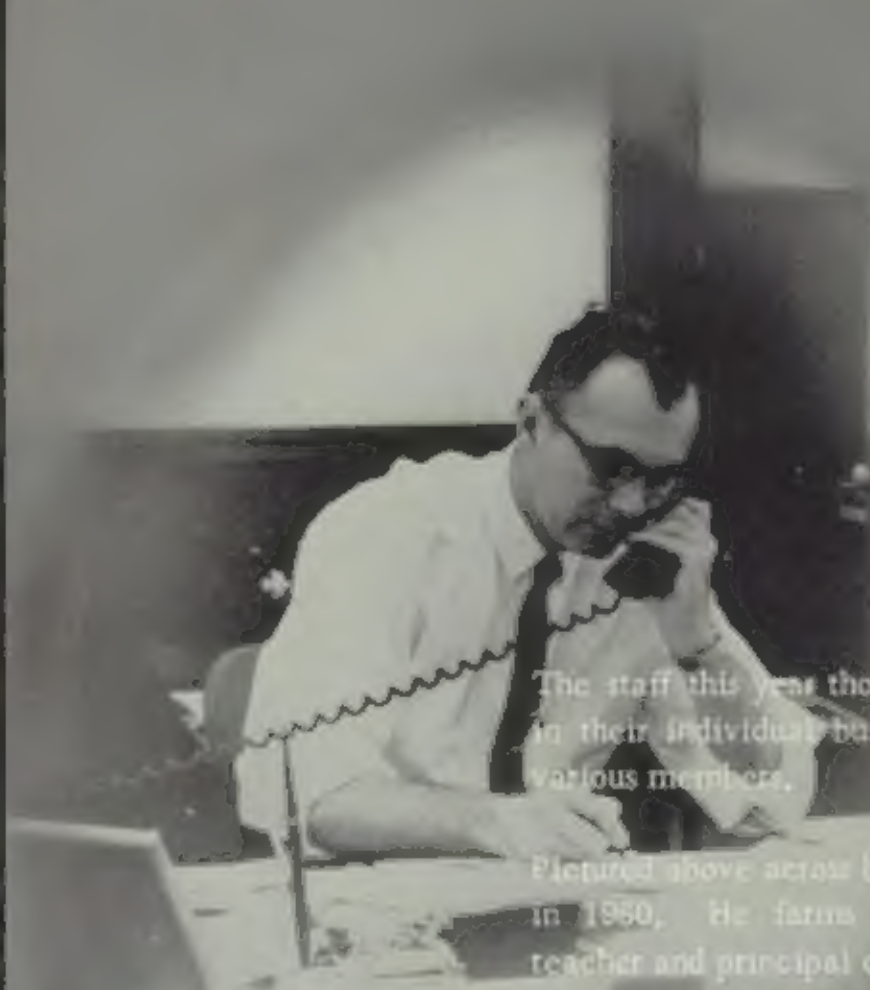

We Dedicate This Yearbook . . .

. . . to the Community of Frankenmuth and those persons and institutions who make possible many wonderful opportunities to the students of Frankenmuth High School, we dedicate the 1964 Eyrie.

We are grateful for the services rendered by The Board of Education, the Alumni Association, American Legion Post 150 and Post 299, Carling Brewing Company, Frankenmuth Chamber of Commerce, Frankenmuth Jaycees, Lions Club, the Frankenmuth News, Frankenmuth Rotary Club, Frankenmuth State Bank, the Otto Trinklein-Scholarship Fund, the Band Boosters, the Parent-Teachers Association, the Twenty-Five Year Club of Carling Brewing Company, Universal Engineering Company and Frankenmuth Mutual Insurance Company.

These various businesses, clubs, and organizations have sponsored band, college, journalism, and speech scholarships, including scholarships to Wolverine Boys State. Sports trophies and National Society Pins have also been purchased by these organizations.

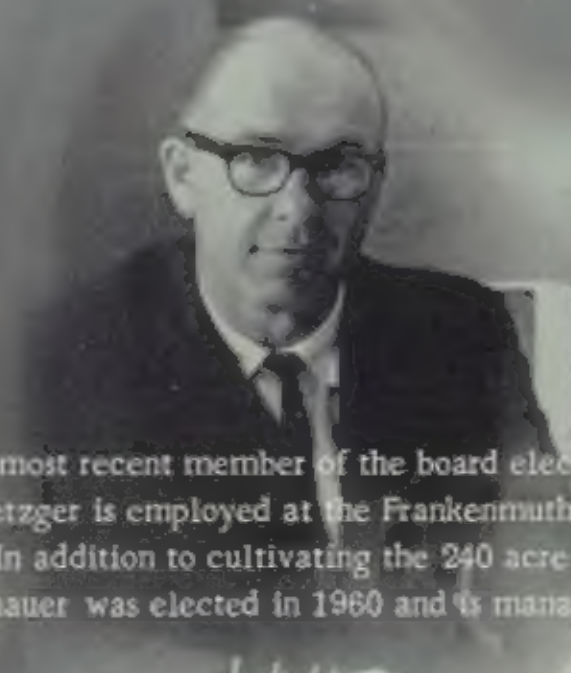

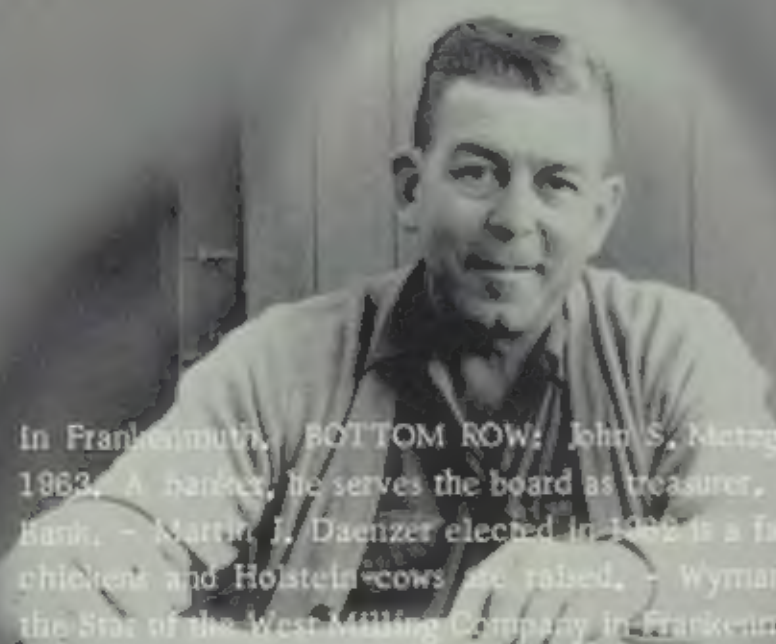

We, the staff of the Eyrie, speak on behalf of the student body thanking you for your services to Frankenmuth High School . . . and thus to the community.

The staff this year thought it would be interesting to take pictures of the Board of Education members in their individual business environment. This will give the reader an idea of the contribution of the various members.

Pictured above across both pages are: Walter Frahm, farmer, president of the board since 1961, elected in 1950. He farms 360 acres and raises and shows Guernsey cows. - Ernst F. Rittmueller, former teacher and principal of St. Lorenz school, and at the present time, serves the Hubinger Lumber Company as secretary-treasurer. He is secretary of the board. - Raymond Baur has served the community on the board since 1961. A former teacher he is now a salesman with the A. J. Mystrom Company. - Doctor Harold Braeutigam began his term with the board in 1962. He is a veterinarian with offices

Board of

In Frankenmuth. BOTTOM ROW: John S. Metzger, the most recent member of the board elected in 1963. A banker, he serves the board as treasurer. Mr. Metzger is employed at the Frankenmuth State Bank. - Martin J. Daenzer elected in 1962 is a farmer. In addition to cultivating the 240 acre farm, chicken and Holstein cows are raised. - Wyman Hegenauer was elected in 1960 and is manager of the Star of the West Milling Company in Frankenmuth.

The board are the policy making group and the last two men are the school administrators, Richard Ziehmer, superintendent, and Robert Wallen, principal. Mr. Ziehmer came to Frankenmuth in 1958 and became the superintendent in 1960. Mr. Wallen came to the staff of the school in 1950 and became principal in 1953.

Education

Administrative Assistants

The efficiency of our school is due largely to the persons at the left, Robert Wallen, principal and administrator; and Mrs. Charlotte Worley, his chief secretary.

Each hour a student helps out in the office. They type and run errands for the teachers. They are l. to r., STANDING: Mary Block, Sharon Trump, Virginia Hetzner, Lois List. SEATED: Diane Schluckebier and Angie Schaad. With the exception of the last student all girls are seniors.

Guidance and Counseling

Homer Stinscombe is the Director of Guidance in Frankmouth. He conducts all testing programs and also does counseling in the high school. He helps to plan high school courses and also future course of study for students.

Mrs. Helena Kaczynski is a member of the guidance staff. This year she has two hours of guidance counseling and the remaining hours she taught physical education. Next year she will be teaching English half of the day and counseling the other half.

Maintenance

HOT LUNCH PROGRAM

Mrs. Christine Rummel, director of the hot lunch program, has been in charge since 1940. Mrs. Rummel, left, is capably assisted by Mrs. Hildegard Mauer, Mrs. Helen Black and Mrs. Leona Weber.

HIGH SCHOOL MAINTENANCE

TRANSPORTATION

Faculty and Classroom Activities

SPEECH

Marvin Hauck supervised the varsity debate team this year which ended the season with a 14-2 in the lower Thumb Debate League and 7-1 in the state debates. Mr. Hauck also supervised forensics and other areas of speech. James Drummond sponsored the J.V. debaters which ended the debates with eight wins and seven losses.

Norman Zeilinger assisted by Pam De Young is busy recording one of his speeches for speech class.

Social Studies

Alfred Zink spent his last year at Frankenmuth High School - his last year of teaching. He is retiring after forty-one years of teaching; thirty-seven in the community of Frankenmuth. The social studies department is under the direction of Charles Bartel, world history; August Kehrberg, American history and government - economics; and Albert Zink, American history and government - economics.

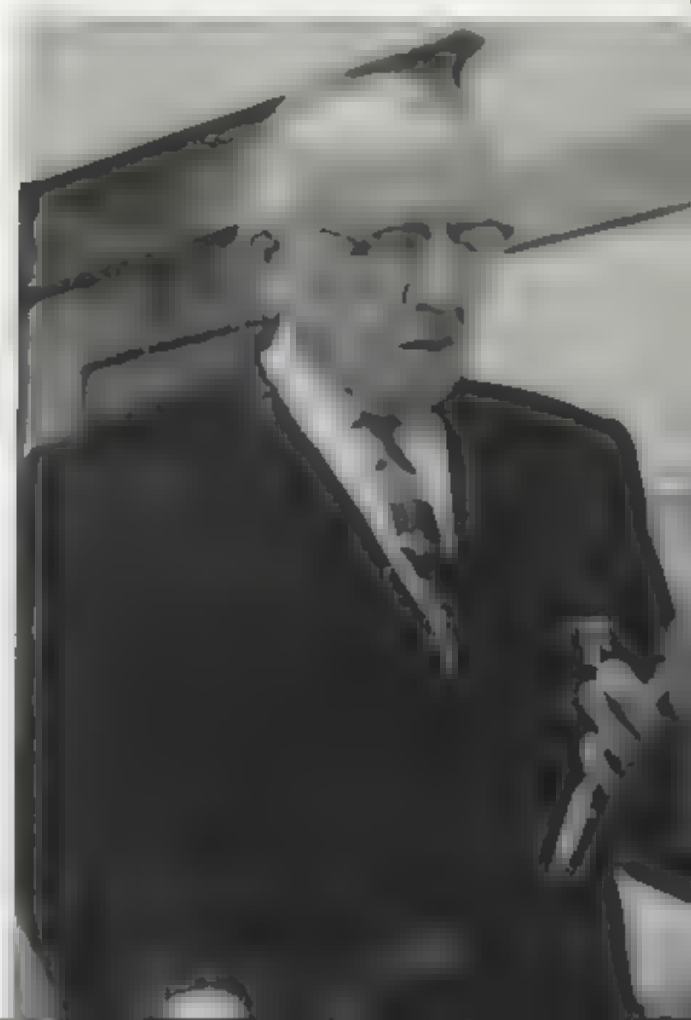

Alfred Zink and Robert Wallen discuss economics test second hour.

Charles Bartel includes a map study in a world history class.

Lesson plans are distributed by August Kehrberg in economics class.

Commercial Studies

Commercial studies of Frankenmuth High School are instructed by Charles Bartel, general business and typing II; Marco Marcet, bookkeeping, shorthand, and typing I; Louis Weiss, business law, co-operative training, office practice, and typing I.

Louis Weiss instructs a senior office practice student, Kathy Krauseneck, in the type and sizes of office correspondence stationery.

Charles Bartel finds that all of the typing assignments he makes must be corrected. Papers must be checked for uniformity and style as well as typographical errors.

Bookkeeping class is instructed by Marco Marcet who is shown here illustrating the various "t-accounts" pertaining to the day's assignment.

Mary Zoellner and Mary Haubensicker work on machines in office practice. They are learning the fundamentals of the ten-key calculator and the full-key calculator.

Mathematics

Three men comprise the mathematics department here. Advanced mathematics are taught by Richard Haffner. Both first and second year algebra as well as basic mathematics are taught by Wayne Seiffert. James Weber teaches geometry in addition to German I and II.

James Weber not only teaches students the fundamentals of geometry, he also teaches first and second year German.

Wayne Seiffert has finally encountered a problem he cannot solve - that is, just a short problem!

A slide rule can be tricky - especially one of this size. So says advanced mathematics teacher, Richard Haffner.

Science

The mad scientists of FHS are Charles Dorcey and Richard Haffner. Mr. Dorcey teaches chemistry and physical science while Mr. Haffner teaches biology and physics. Both will be leaving after this year.

Wearing safety glasses and intent on the experiment is Ken Spencer. Interested spectators include Al Roede, and right, Al Martens.

Tim Daenzer and Jim Bartels are dissecting a frog in biology class.

Nichele O'Day has instructed Home Economics classes at Frankenmuth High School for a year and a half. Three years of Home Economics are offered. Miss O'Day leaves at the close of the school year to join the Peace Corps.

Miss Nichele O'Day is pictured here helping Joelynn Geyer, Nancy Voorhees, and Kathie Krummayer in fourth hour home economics class.

Home Economics

Marie Wallen, winner of the "Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow" contest, receives her certificate and her award from the home economics teacher, Miss Nichele O'Day.

The "Outstanding Freshman in Home Economics" award to Suzanne Leidel is presented by Miss O'Day.

Industrial Arts

The industrial arts, shop and auto mechanics, have long been popular classes in the local high school. With as many students as it is possible to handle, Warren Naber, long time instructor, fills each school day to the fullest.

Warren Naber examines a lamp, an assignment completed by Gerald Mueller, a sophomore.

Craig Iansiti plays a solo while James VanDeVelde directs the rest of the band in accompaniment.

Frankenmuth High Majorettes for this year were Charlotte Heine, Joelyn Geyer, (Drum Majorette), and Sandy Waack.

Two highlights of the year for the Frankenmuth High School art students were the eighth annual spring art exhibit held in the well lighted corridors of the school (above) and the trip to the Detroit Institute of Art.

Lois List, a first year art student, draws with crayon the first process of a wax resist picture. Her subject is a highly colored clown which will later be treated with India ink.

A clown is also in the making by Clella Sage, second year student. Clella's media is pastel.

Art

The art department of Frankenmuth High School is under the direction of Mrs. Margret Willis. Students displayed their work in a traveling art show, in Saginaw and at the Bavarian Festival in Frankenmuth.

English

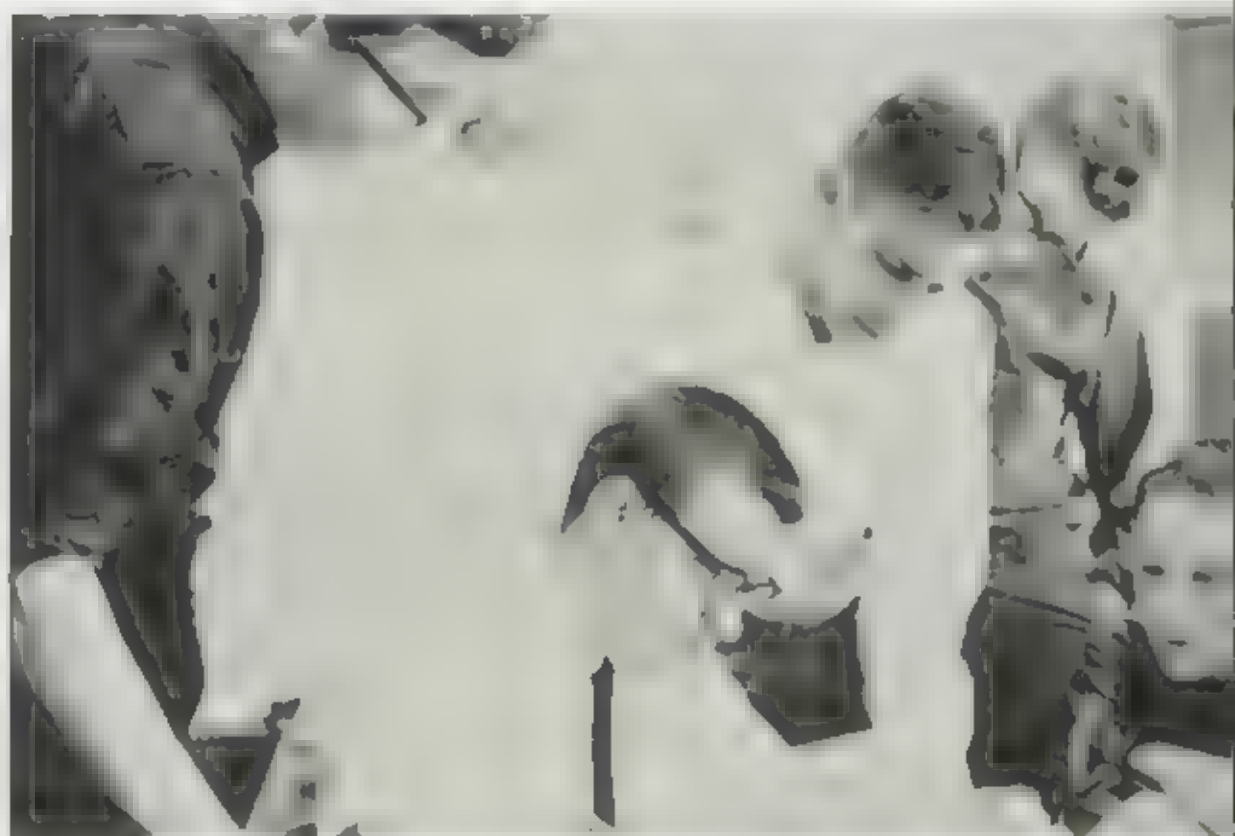

The English department at Frankemuth High School was smoothly run throughout the school year by Mrs. Margret Willis, senior English; James Drummond, English I and II; and Norman Richter, English I, II and III.

Mrs. Willis explains a poem to senior Pauline Nuechterlein for her World Literature class.

Norman Richter demonstrates a reading aid to Kathy Loveles.

Senior students work industriously on an English exam.

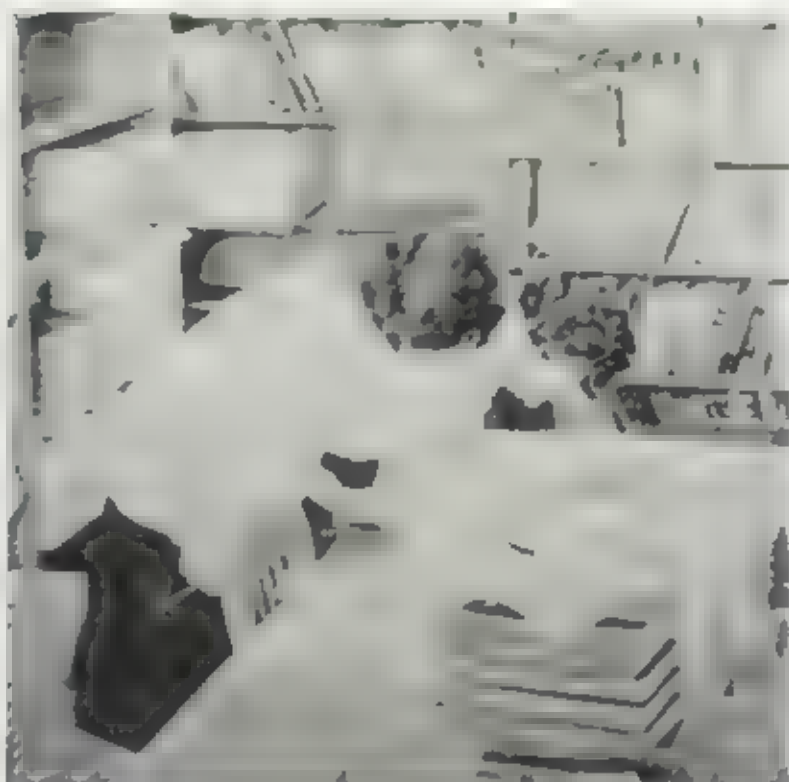

Surrounding James Drummond are some "eager beavers" who question him about his most recent assignments, and other aspects of his course. The students, Kenneth Vietengruber, John Eaton, Richard Albert and Micheal Rousch, seem to be interested.

Library

Frankenmuth high school librarian, Judith Maier, catalogs new library books. Mrs. Maier has been librarian for three years and is always ready to aid students in the library.

Research, research, grumble. Kathy Rummel and Jeannette Schreiner as they diligently study in the back room of the library.

Physical Education

Thomas Kaczynski and Harold "Doc" Kaczynski are street boys and good physical education teachers. This is Mrs. Hick's primary after her long physical education career. She will be made as a member of the physical education department.

These are the two of the two physical education teachers. Harold Kaczynski is a teacher of the class, while Mrs. Hick is a teacher of the class. She is a teacher of the class.

Physical education is a very important part of the school program. It is a very important part of the school program. It is a very important part of the school program.

These are the champions of the girls' physical education tournaments - Irene Block, Kay Kaczynski, Sandra Wack, Joa Macher, and Elaine Huoprecht.

Ann Bender looks amused as her cousin Janet Bender leaps over the high jump bar. Holding the other end is Janine Waack. Track and field is one of the many varieties of activities for the girl's physical education class.

Student Teachers

For the sixth consecutive year Frankenmuth High School has participated in Central Michigan University's student teaching program. Under this program future teachers of the college are assigned to teach at a high school for a period of eight weeks during their senior year. Each student teacher works with an affiliated teacher throughout the various departments of the school.

Keith Valentine was an extern at Frankenmuth High School for six weeks in the beginning of the school year. He taught History and Government Economics.

John Strickter came to Frankenmuth a short time after Mr. Valentine and Mr. Green left. He taught History, Government Economics, and Physical Education.

Robert Green was an extern at Frankenmuth High School for six weeks at the same time Mr. Valentine was here. He taught Algebra I and II and Basic Math.

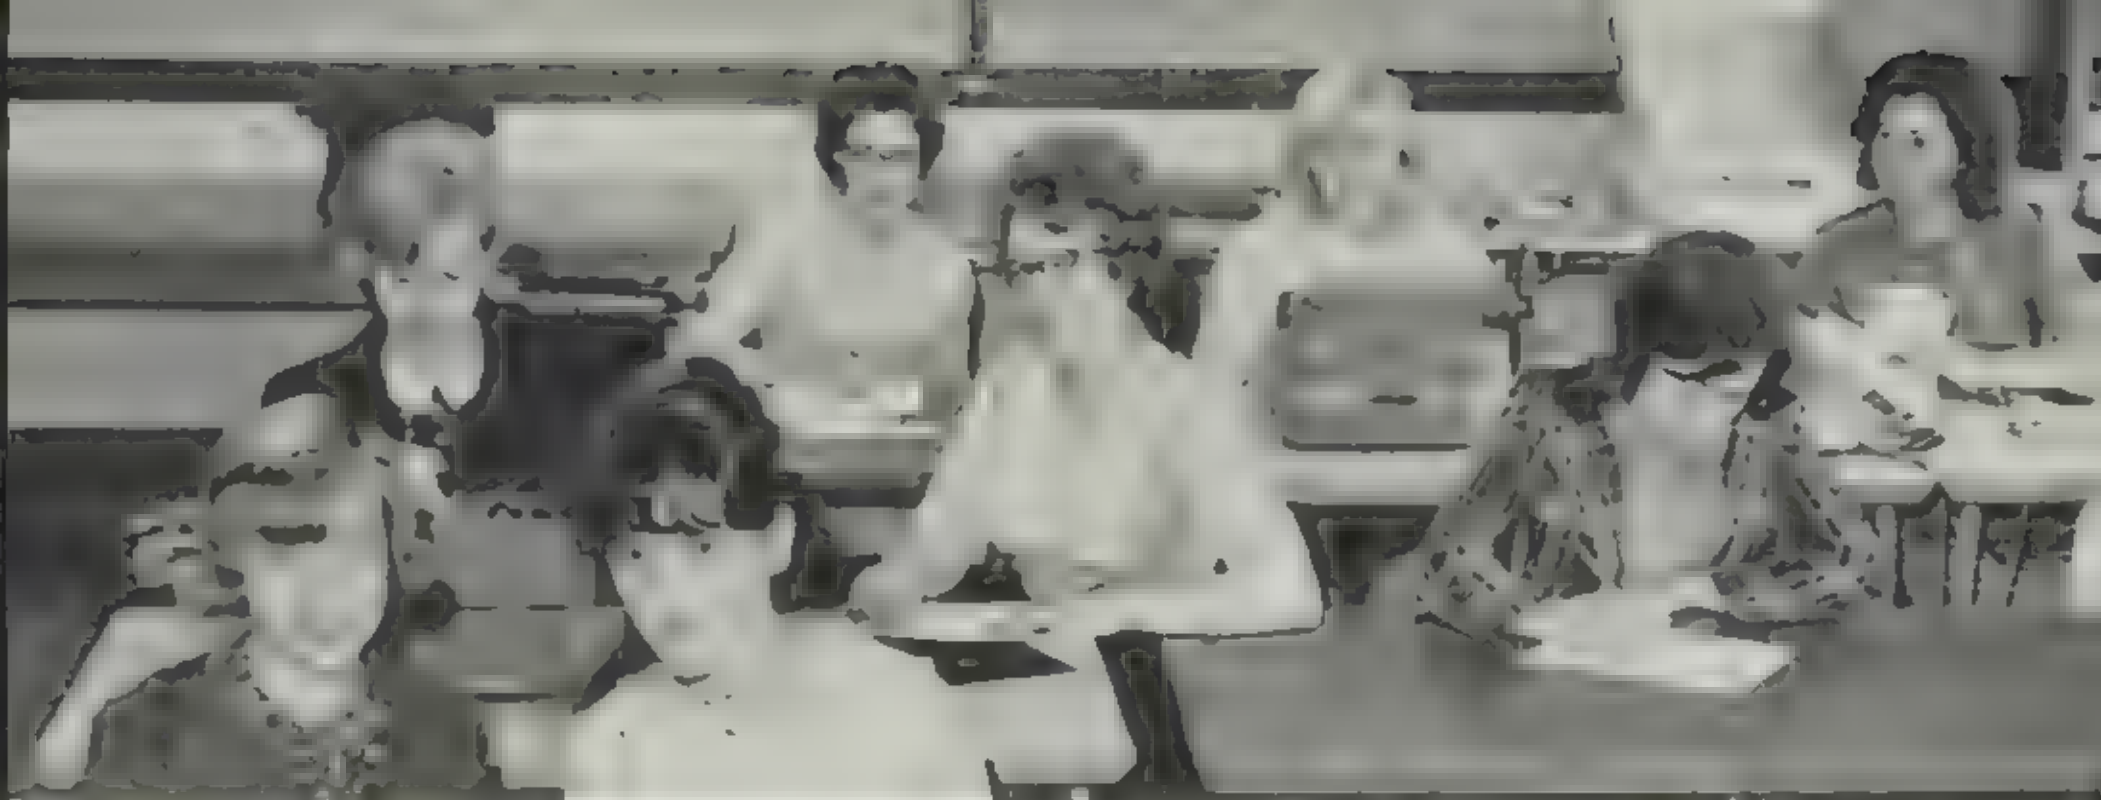

Mr. Ronald Swanson, who assisted James Weber in the German classes, is pictured here with Miss Margean Creeger, assistant in Alfred Zink's history class and Marvin Hauck's speech classes.

Miss Barbara Dawson assisted Alfred Zink in his history classes and Mr. Hauck in two of his speech classes.

Clyde Line, student teacher from Michigan University, assisted Mr. Seiffert in Basic Math and Algebra I and II.

As usual, the 1964 yearbook is scheduled for fall distribution and for this reason, much of the work has been completed at the end of the school year since the yearbook is a book of memories.

This year austere measures were taken to curtail the number of pages and yet to cover the vast amount of material which had to be tailored to fit the planned size. The measure had to be taken because of the poor response of the student body to the purchase of yearbooks.

We wish at this time to make special note of the fine photographic work of Dennis Recla who for his four years in high school has worked diligently as school photographer.

We wish to acknowledge here the wonderful financial help of the advertisers without whose generous assistance the yearbook would not have been possible. As in the past, we ask students to bear in mind the local members of business and industry who have supported the Eyrie.

Sincerely,
The Staff

Mrs. Margaret Willis, advisor, talks with Crystal Shullinger relative to layout of her particular section of the yearbook.

Dennis Recla, always there with the camera, is given credit for taking the bulk of the pictures. Rummel Studio also took some of them.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

On September 3, 1960, the class of '64 entered Frankelmuth High School for the first time. The class was composed of ninety-four students each anxious to get started on their new experience of high school activities. During the years the class sponsored the usual number of activities such as dances, bake sales, a pancake supper, and a spaghetti dinner.

In their junior year the class held several money raising activities. One of the highlights was the Krazy Karmival which was given for the purpose of obtaining money for the entertainment of the seniors at the Junior-Senior Prom. The prom was given in the beautifully decorated gymnasium with the theme "Evening in Paris."

During the four years the class lost seven students to graduate eighty-seven members on June 4, 1964.

Senior Trip

By all reports the one-day senior outing was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Leaving Frankenmuth at six a.m., the group arrived before noon at the "Gay El Rancho" resort near Grayling.

Although the water in the pool was pleasant and warm, the temperature that day was cool and crisp. Frank Piesko, foreground, and Dennis Recla display heavy coats and big goosebumps as they "sunbathe" on the pool deck at "Gay El Rancho" resort on senior trip day.

"Watch out below," is the cry as Curtis Kohlberg launches from the board in a graceful one and one-half "belly flop." Let's hope there's enough water left in the pool for the rest to enjoy.

Kathy Gever doesn't seem to mind the fact that she has been cornered in the pool by Jim Galsterer on senior trip day.

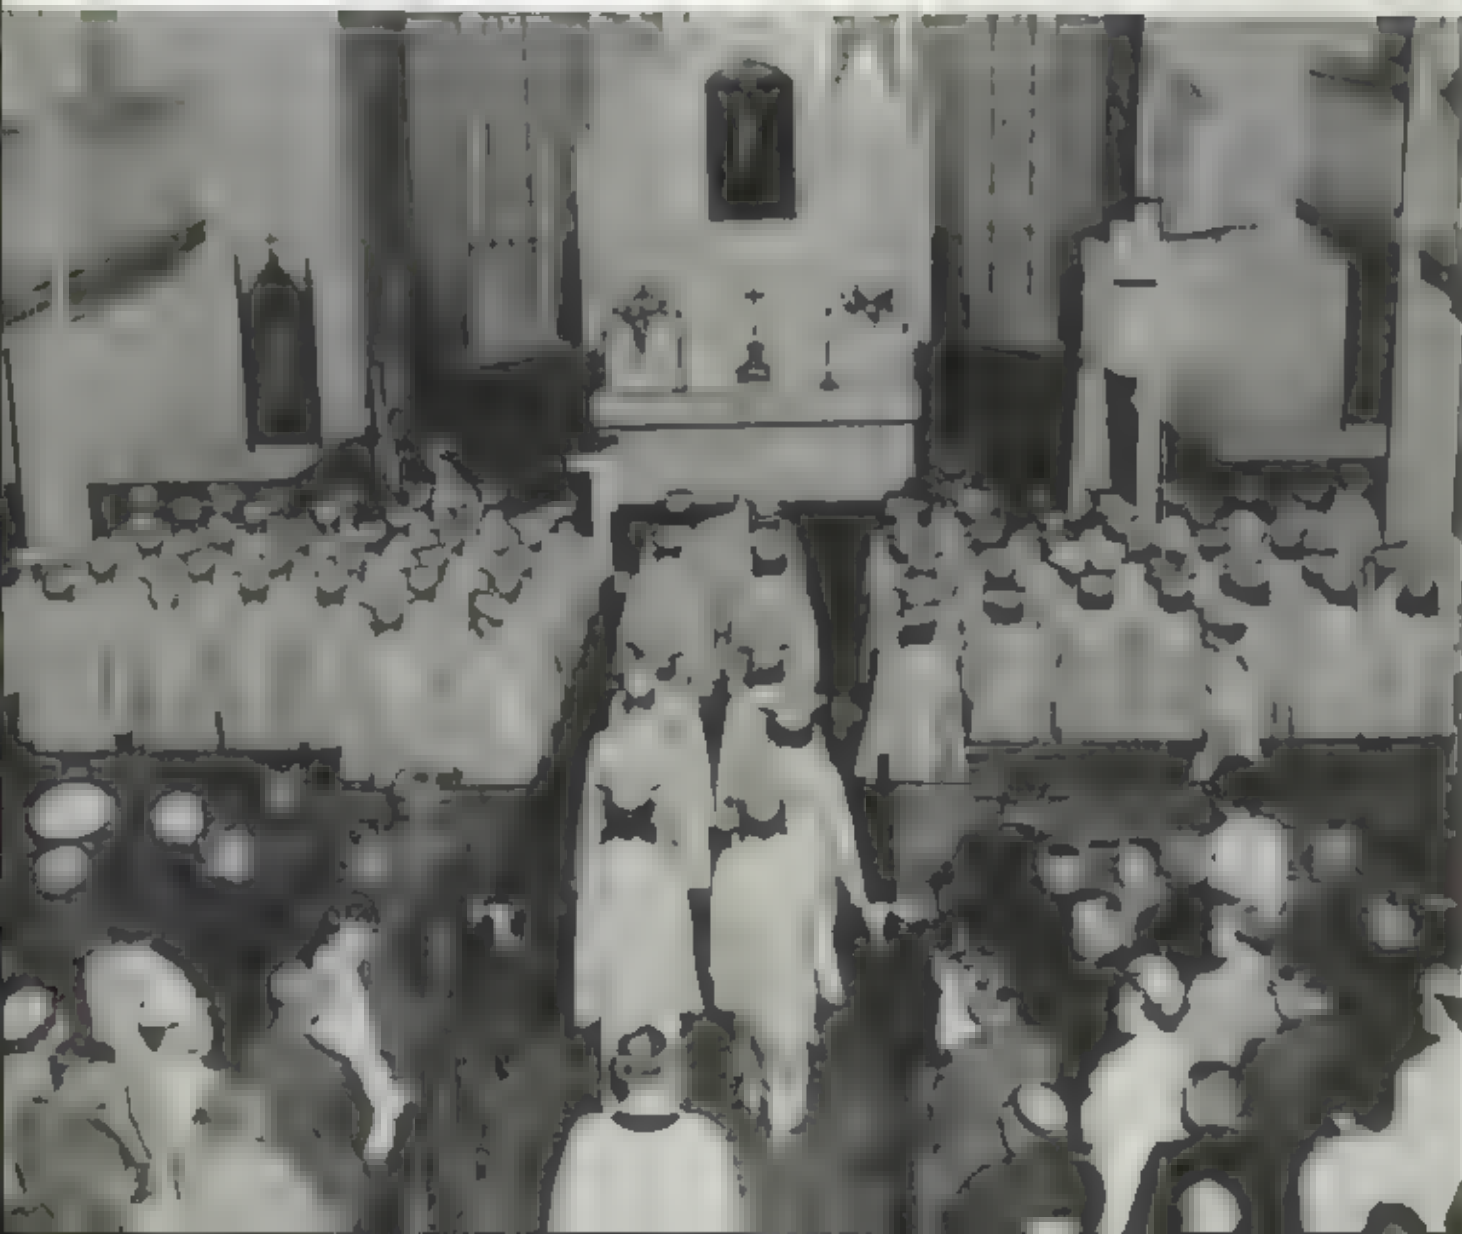

Mrs. Maier and Mrs. Seffert look on with shivering disbelief as they head for a warm corner and meet a pool-bound swimmer headed toward the pool.

L. to r.: Lee Rockefeller, John Brender, Dennis Laux, Tom Worley, Tom Hildner, and Mary Knoll never hurried as fast to their first hour class as they did to take a dip in the heated pool at "Gay El Rancho."

Baccalaureate

Eighty-six students, members of the graduation class of Fra. Keilmuth High School, filed into the St. Lorenz Church at 6:00 Sunday evening, May 31, for their baccalaureate service. Pastor John Janz talked to the class and their relatives. The topic of the address was "Don't Drift Away, Have Set Direction." The service solemnly marked the beginning of graduation week.

Graduation

Dr. F. O. Melby, Professor of Education, Michigan State University, and Dean Emeritus at New York University, addressed the graduation class members and their guests, June 4, 1964.

The commencement exercises were held under the stars on what proved to be a clear, crisp evening. Diplomas were presented by Walter Frahm, president of the Frankemuth District Board of Education, and Robert Wallen, principal. Six students were singularly honored for academic achievement: Naida Krafft, valedictorian, Dorothy Gugel, salutatorian, Shirley Geyer, Lois List, Sharon Leidel, and Virginia Hetzner.

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

Ted Galasterer was elected president of the Junior class to lead many of the school activities that were held this year. Ron Loesel, vice-president, proved worthy of his position by heading the prom and spaghetti dinner. Kathy Kammes served as the Junior class secretary while Connie Day was the treasurer. The Ninety-three members of the class of '65 worked hard to make the activities of their class a success. These activities included three dances, a spaghetti dinner, Krazy Karnival, and a bake sale. These were all held to help raise money for the Junior-Senior Dance held May 23 with "Moon River" as its theme. The Juniors did a beautiful job.

CLASS HISTORY

The eighty-nine members of the sophomore class elected Jean List to be their class president. Dave Meyer served as vice-president while Sandra Waack was the secretary and Richard Lindow served as the treasurer.

This year's sophomore class sponsored a dance, one bake sale and three candy sales.

The student council members for this year are Kathy Deterding, Dave Simon, Bob Zeilinger, Janice Hartman and Gary Conzelman.

This year the sophomore class submitted this float in the homecoming contest. It won third place.

Freshman Class

The capable leaders of the freshman class are, l. to r.: Mary Zehnder, treasurer; Douglas Worley, president; James Poellet, vice-president; Kay Hegenauer, secretary.

CLASS HISTORY

This year's freshman class, consisting of one hundred and two members, is a symbol of friendliness, school spirit, and intelligence. Different from most others, this class sponsored a bake sale early in the year. It was a great success.

Tom Baker moves in to make a key block to help Dennis Laux gain additional yardage on an end run play.

Tom Johnston looks worried as fellow teammate is attacked by two players from the opposing team.

The Queens —

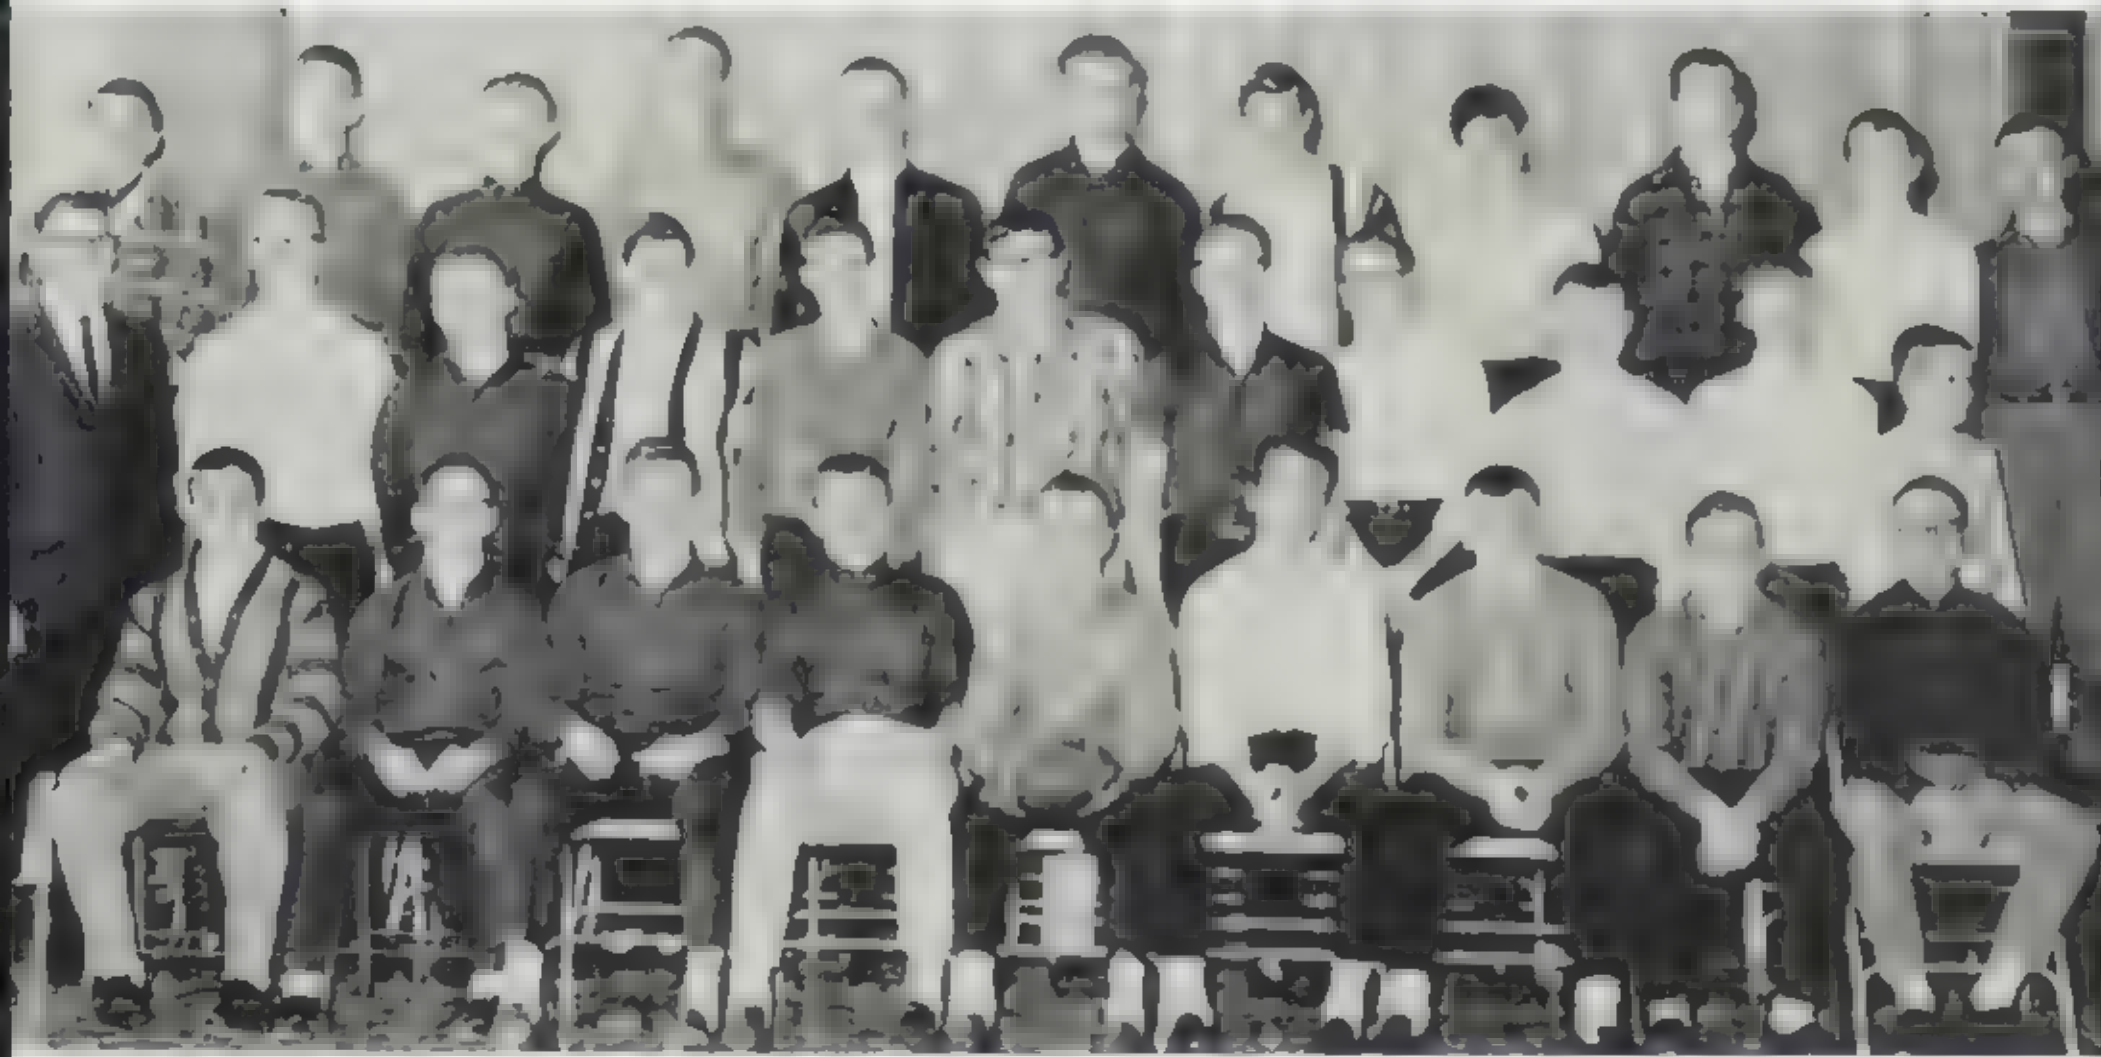

Looking pretty, with smiles from ear to ear, are this year's candidates for homecoming queen. They are, from left, Kathy Oever, Joyce Reichtelbauer, and Naida Kraftt, all seniors. The girls took the crown from a medley of students from both the senior and junior classes.

Kathy Oever, looking surprised, and happy to give the senior of homecoming queen for 1964. She was presented with a diamond-stemmed American beauty roses, her crown and most cherished, a football autographed by the players. Kathy will enroll at New Georgia State University in the fall.

Roger Kroeger, of the Varsity squad, evades a player from the opposing team to complete a pass and leaves the defender standing hopelessly behind.

Ball, ball, who has the ball? A question one might ask as Martin Knoll and Ken Weiss go up for a rebound. Don't let the game during an exciting game in the district tournament.

All eyes are on Ken Spencer as he makes a difficult hook shot. Nowhere does one find more grace than is displayed by basketball players.

J.V. basketball player "Ike" Bleke fights for the ball in the local gym as his opponent commits a flagrant foul (note right hand of player on left).

Supporting their team are some peppy freshman cheerleaders who will be in there rooting for the next year. They are, l. to r.: Ruth Abraham, Barb Rupprecht, Joelynn Geyer, and Kay Hegenauer.

Basketball Fans!

To win a game, more is needed than a good basketball team. At every tag basketball game you will find fans with "Spirit." These fans are a valuable aid to the team. Apparently the fans in this group of pictures were really living it up. To give the players a view of what goes on we present this series.

Above: "Oh, no. Why does the other team get all the breaks," exclaim Virginia Hertzner, Dorothy Gugel, and Shirley Geyer in dismay. At the left: Their sorrow seems to deepen as the opposing team scores another basket . . . then another.

At right: "There must be a cover on that basket," exclaim Marv Block as the Eagle ball fails to go through the basket, despite valiant tries by the team members.

Cheerleaders Kathy Geyer, Joan Miller, and Diane Loesel give the camera three original expressions stating clearly that something's wrong.

An Eagle player stands ready to send the baseball flying in one of the exciting games of the season.

After finishing his part of the running, Roger Kroeger hands the baton to Ike Bleke on the 880-relay. The Frankenmuth track team brought home the championship trophy in the regional meet at Cass City this spring.

Frank Piesko looks "ready to run" as he starts on his journey around the track.

Ron Loesel crosses the line first in a preliminary heat of the 100 yard dash at the regional meet.

Dennis Laix breaks another tackle, showing the determination and versatility that made him all-state halfback for 1963 season.

Named to the "Thumb B" All Star basketball team were Marty Knoll, and Bob Pascoe. Both boys won all area awards, too.

Extracurricular Activities

Student Council

"How do I love thee?" As punishment for not conforming, Fred Zehnder had to read the Browning poem to all girls in the audience. This takes place during Twirp Week.

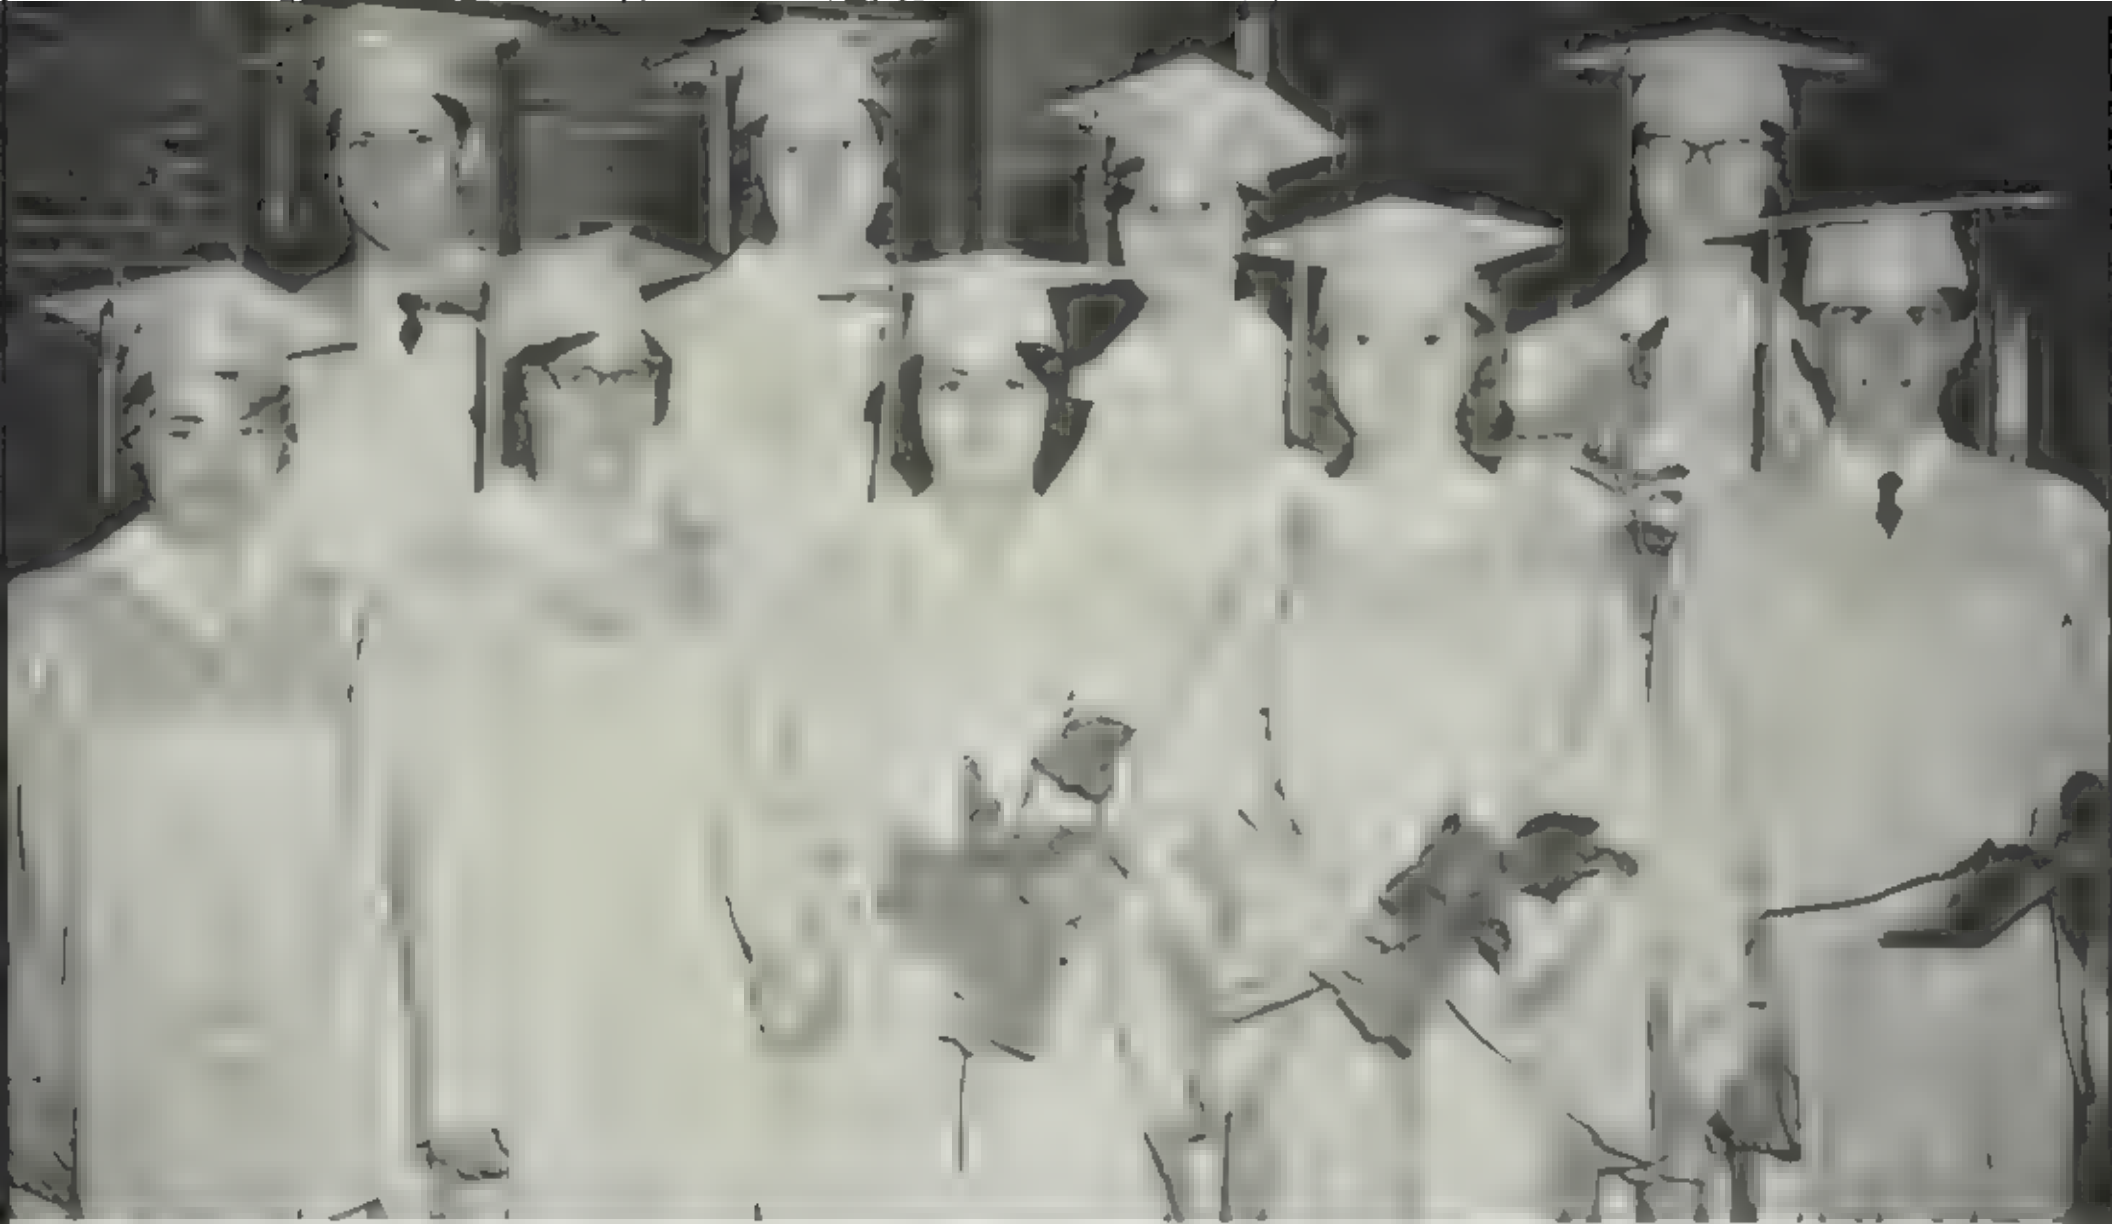

"Drench your hair in loveliness." Mary Block giving Kathy Geyer a shampoo after she failed to comply with the demands of the Kangaroo Court, set up for offenders during the student body Twirp Week.

Mrs. Margret Willis presents a copy of the 1963 Yearbook to Lorenz List. The book, dedicated to Mr. List in appreciation of his service to the school as a long-time member of the board, was published by the class of '63.

Cleta Sage was awarded the scholarship to Michigan State University for two weeks this summer. The two weeks will be spent in the study of yearbook production. Cleta has worked on the Evrie staff for the past two years and was this year's co-editor of the Evrie.

Pictured here are Dorothy Gugel and Frank Puck, winners of the American Legion Citizenship Award. They were presented with this award for their outstanding quality of citizenship.

Tom Reinhold and Craig Ansiti were awarded a musical scholarship to Interlochen for a summer session. Both Tom and Craig won awards in the state solo and ensemble contest.

National Honor Society

Alfred G. Zink, Chapter

The Alfred G. Zink Chapter of the National Honor Society was established the year the full high school opened in 1957. At the present time there are twenty-five members. TOP ROW, l. to r.: D. Guger, F. Pleck, K. Geyer, F. Zellinger, R. Loesel, F. Zehnder, A. Martens, I. Abraham, K. Knoll, T. Johnston, E. Hammond. SECOND ROW: D. Palmreuter, M. Block, N. Krafft, J. Schreiner, B. Leidel, S. Haubenstricker.

Future Nurses Club

The Future Nurses Club was organized during the 1962-63 school year and at the present time boasts of sixteen members. Several seniors in the group will attend schools to train for nursing. Directing the group are advisors Mrs. Otto Brechtelsbauer and Mrs. Dwight Wilkenson. Several members were camera shy but those pictured are, l. to r., FRONT ROW: Julie Uebler, Mary Jo Schroeder, Bev Beyerlein, Angie Schaard, Janet McElgunn, Pat Conzelmann, Barbara Bernthal. SECOND ROW: Betty Heinlein, Mary Haubenstricker, Nancy Haubenstricker, Irene Block, Sue Schwab, Lois Deanzer, Ann Bender, Lynn Fischhaber.

Debate

Novice debaters are something new this year. This was done to accommodate all the students that went out for debate. For almost all of the students, debate was something that they had never done before and it was more or less to initiate them to the rules and just how to debate. FRONT ROW, l. to r.: K. Deterding, S. Wauck, D. Suppes, S. Nuechterlein, C. Schmitzer. SECOND ROW: S. Leidel, J. Eaton, J. Eicher, K. Geyer, Mr. J. Drummond, sponsor. THIRD ROW: B. Rustum, M. Honold, P. Shippey.

This year the American Legion Oratorical Contest was won by Lois List and Frank Plesko was second. Pictured with them is Mr. Trinklein representing the Legion.

Forensics

Twenty-two students participated in Forensics this Spring. Eight of these made it through the district contest and only one through regional contest. FRONT ROW, l. to r.: S. Geyer, D. Suppes, S. Nuechterlein, K. Bernthal, P. Shippey, B. Rustum, F. Elscher, P. De Young. SECOND ROW: D. Warnick, K. Deterding, D. Gugel, S. Wauck, D. Bender, M. Vanek, R. Loesel, Mr. M. Hauck and Mr. J. Drummond, sponsors. THIRD ROW: T. Abraham, P. Mitchell, J. Uebler, V. Zender, D. Palmreuter, K. Geyer.

Winners of first and second places in the District Forensics Contest, l. to r.: Julie Uebler, Tim Abraham, Kathy Geyer, Ron Loesel, Marcia Vanek, Fred Elscher, and Dorothy Gugel. Kathy Geyer was the only one to win a second place in the Regional Contest.

Junior-Senior Prom

For the first time since the inception of the complete Frankemuth High School in 1957, the Junior-Senior Dance was held outside the school. Both the dinner and dance took place at the Bavarian Inn on May 23. Several parties were held previous to the dance and a party at the American Legion hall followed.

Prom goes dance and dance all night. Left: The entertainment provided by the junior class was excellent.

Karen Boike and her date, along with other couples attending the dance at the Bavarian Inn, watch the entertainment on stage.

Krazy Karnival

Our King - Al Martens'

The 1964 Krazy Karnival was traditionally presented by the Junior class. All four high school classes nominated a boy and a girl for king and queen candidates. The Senior class was represented by Martin Knoll and Virginia Hetzler. From the Junior class came Al Martens and Joan Miller while Fred Wenzel and Kathy Bernthal represented the Sophomores. Freshmen were represented by Kay Sue Hegenauer and Mike Gaasterer.

Curious Savage

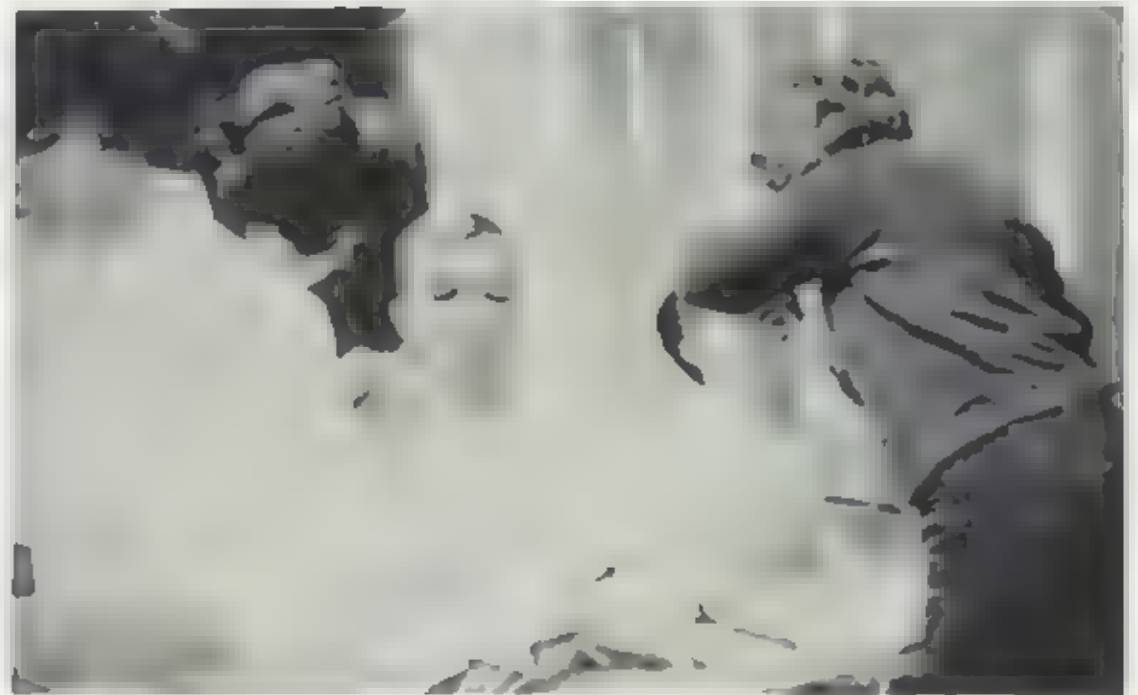

The spring play this year was the "Curious Savage," by John Patrick. The play was sponsored by the Senior class with complete school participation and directed by Norman Richter, English instructor. It was presented on April 23 and 24 and the proceeds went to the Senior class.

"How can the world be so horrible!"

"Now listen here . . ."

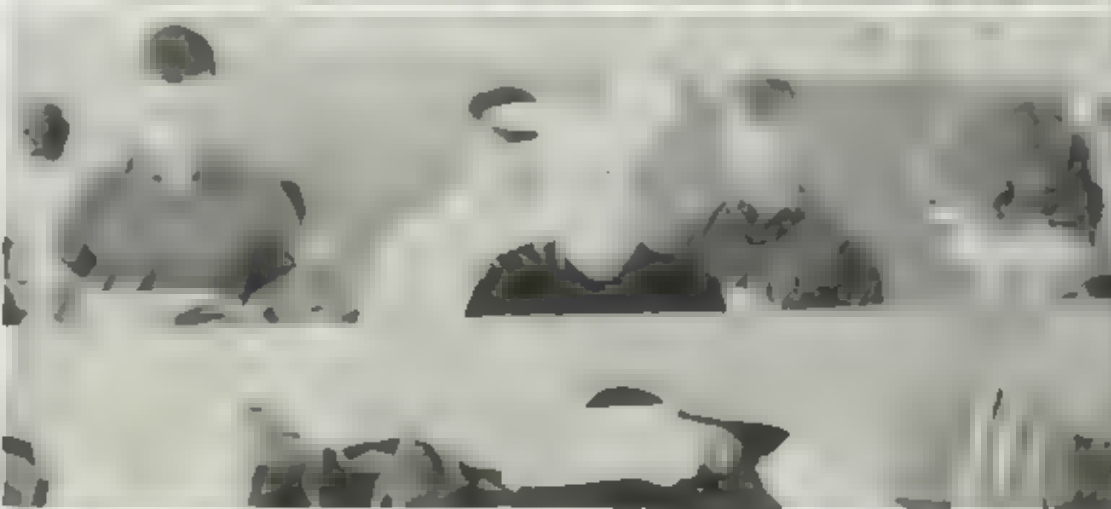

Lee and Earl get the finishing touches.

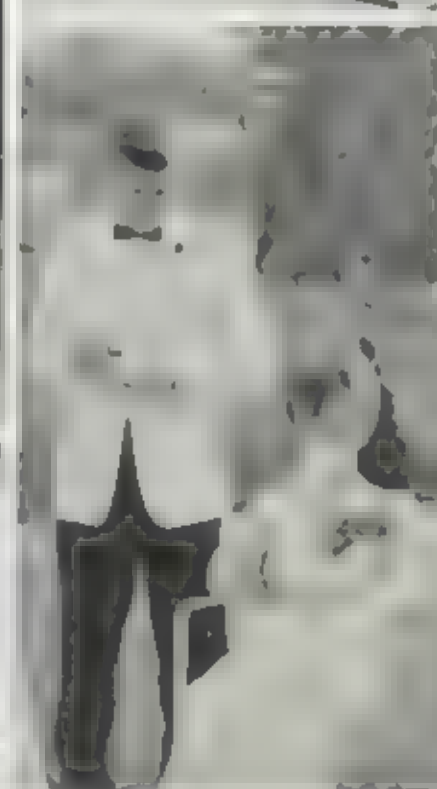

The tension builds up on rehearsal nights.

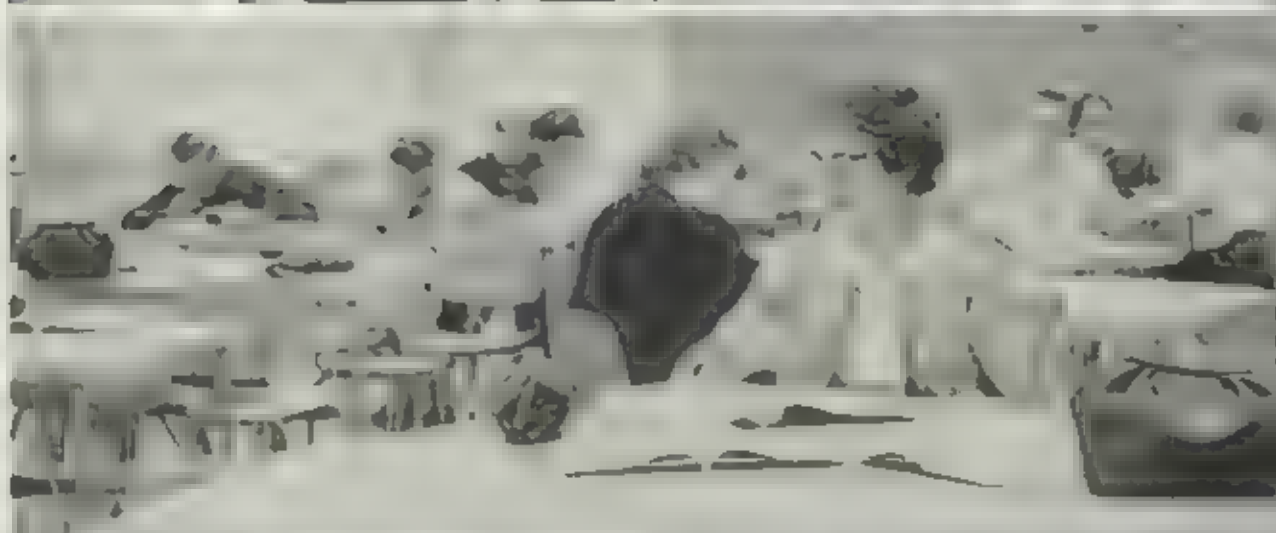

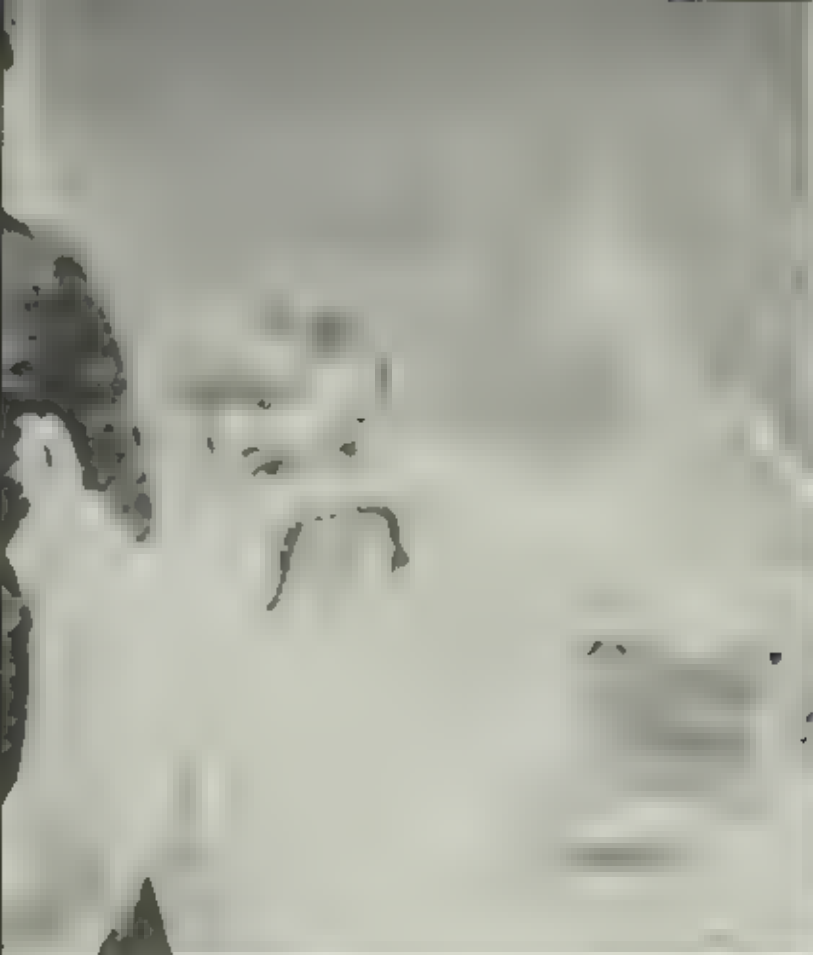

Brief Flashes of Extracurricular Activities

Kathy (another, caterpillar, don't even know the name) has, or shall we say "Alice" . . . "It's it her" to get hitched," says Jenni (asch) as she portrays the part of Pearl May . . . Alice, the mice and the birds get together for a little socializing . . . "seeing a frog is part of the work?" in biology . . . Teachers are being helpful, us once in a while too . . . Mr. Wane's (his name) latest addition to the cheerleading squad . . . Mr. Wane's smug smile suggests to us that he has caught a cheater (he's trying to "eat" . . .

Where did everybody go? . . . First day back at school . . . Here are the F.H.S. Beatles playing their third encore . . . Henry Dietzel dons his basketball uniform . . . James Drummord didn't need a uniform, he came as he was . . . Here is a scene from "The Curious Savage," a senior sponsored play . . . Three more juniors seem to be enjoying the Cocktail party before the prom . . . Gary Walsh as Uncle Fudd, in "Itchin' to get Hatched."

TOP ROW, l. to r.: . . . "Don't be alarmed, I'm no villain," says Lee Rockefeller during rehearsal for the senior play . . . Twirp week results in various consequences: Dave Gehrs telling Barbara Rupprecht, "How do I love thee let me count the ways . . ." Ruth Abraham is saying "My gums ache, when can I quit?" The library is the place to study, ask anyone of these hard-working students!! . . . "Oldsmuey," Marty Knoll, sits in the ticket booth during the noon hour selling tickets for the senior play.

TOP ROW, l. to r.: Mr. Haffner instructs D. Gehrs and B. Zenger on how to dissect frogs . . . Basketball's avid spectators; Howe and Kathy . . . Connie and Jane in a tight squeeze during play practice . . . Sitting on the windowsill, watching all the girls go by . . . "Are you sure it will stay up?" asks Tom Worley . . . Singing in the shower is Kathy Schlegel . . . Anyone can be a beatnik! . . . "Well it's no poison apple if that's what you mean," says Ted . . .
